Arriving at the Clinic...

Opening a file...

baby2mom sticker placed on my file.

Is this excitement?

Mixed emotions of...

Joy?

Happiness?

Laughter?

I wanna hold it because it makes me excited?

Umh... where is the button to select ALL OF THE ABOVE?

Patiently in the waiting area...

Ok... This is where it hit home...

Seeing all these mommies, patiently waiting... worry on their faces... pain in their eyes...

I knew, right here and then, this definitely is right.

If the roles were swapped around and I had to be that mommy waiting, worried and in pain, I would also wish for someone to patiently be in the waiting room with a smile trying to brighten another mommy's day like mine.

Wouldn't you want to brighten her day?

Getting to the naked part...

Ok ok, the most important part 😊

This is where we hear that I am healthy enough and will be able to make another mommy happy and bless her beyond measure!

So here I am....

putting on THE gown...

Ok ok... Breathe...

This is where I become stressed...

Barely breathing...

It would be heart breaking... was if...

Here I am babbling all about what if...

The Doctor, super sweet spoke to me while inspecting everything...

He says... Hmmmf.

My ovaries are healthy and working fantastic!!

Back to the office to see Mandy...

Lovely meeting Mandy and speaking to her, she showed me the photos of how the injections work and how the procedure works.

Interesting to know that you do not even realise that one ovary is 'lost' a month with a woman's natural course...

Do you realise how every woman can help one another without realising the benefit it can have to another future mom?

Which of course makes me super upset to see how other people, mostly family, get all judgemental and start bullying. We have this as well.

Think about this, does it really matter what they say?

Think for another while...

No, as long as you know what you want and your spouse stands with you, who are they to judge? You are the one who has to sleep in the bed you make. So choose what YOU as husband and wife want.

Together.

Because in the end it is you  two sleeping in that bed, not the person who is judging you, they have to sleep in their own bed made up out of their own lies, pain, deceit, hurt, bullying, and they will one day have to face God.

God only knows what you are going through...

Back in the now...

Went back to Krina, she says she will keep me updated regarding the blood results and of course soon to be mom's cycle!

Then the story truly begins...
What are you waiting for...?

Let's start and pray together!
